Sign of the Week

Craig has introduced a sign of the week for our children this week. Each week will have at least one new sign introduced. We will share these with parents so that you can also use and reinforce them at home. They will be beneficial for all children as they will allow the children to communicate with each other as well as allowing the children who may need them to communicate with adults. This week our sign has been 'hello'

Home- School Communication

Hopefully you should have now received your invitation to join Tapestry which is our online learning journal where we will record key learning and successes for each child weekly. Please check your junk folders just in case it has gone there. To start with we have just sent one invitation per child (we have sent it to the person listed as the main contact on the pupil information form) however if you would like an additional log-in please let Tina know and we can arrange for this to happen.

We are also going to be adding some further details to our home-school communication books so that they look a little bit smarter and more personalised. As we are still waiting on deliveries, we have had to make use of the resources available at the time so please bear with us as we update things as the resources we had intended to use arrive.

Staff will be making contact over the next week for a catch up if they have not done so already.

We hope you have a wonderful weekend and look forward to seeing you all next week for more learning and development!

Many thanks,

Lauren Norton,

Head of School
